60 items are missing at the city hall

City clerk calls inventory 'a joke'

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

More than 60 items are missing from the Romulus City Hall since last year, according to a recently completed city inventory.

But, Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar termed the inventory findings "a joke."

The inventory, completed by the auditing firm of Adelson, Weitz, Witus and Co., showed items including tape recorders, desks, chairs and wastebaskets missing.

ROMULUS TREASURER John B. Lewkowicz said he intends eventually to talk with the Wayne County Sheriff Department about the findings, but added that he will discuss the report with Folmar and the Romulus City Council first.

"Before anything is done, I'd like to talk with Leonard," Lewkowicz said. "According to all records, he was responsible for the inventory in the past city administration."

"I really don't know what we can do if something's missing, but I'm sure checking around to make sure that the items really are missing."

Folmar, when informed of the report laughed at the implications, and said: "Some guy came into my office one day and checked the inventory. But it wasn't what you'd call a detailed check."

FOLMAR CHECKED some of the items listed as missing and looked around his office.

"It showed one dictaphone missing here," he said. "It's up on the shelf."

The dictaphone had been on Folmar's bookshelf for several months, in plain view of any visitor, he said.

In the report, given to Lewkowicz Feb. 1, the accounting firm said: "Prior lists of inventoried fixed assets prepared by city employees at various dates during the later months of 1972 were submitted to us for comparison."

"A COMPARISON of the then existing items with our physical count indicated a lack of sufficient accountability for the property items involved."

The firm listed 64 items in all, with an estimated value in excess of $5,000 as missing.

Included in the list were four electric typewriters, four shotguns, an adding machine, an autocopier, two dictaphones, four tape recorders, a movie projector, two filmstrip readers, a camera, two bookcases, three desks, nine file cabinets, nine chairs and other assorted items as ash trays and waste baskets.

Substandard building crack-down will begin

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt is beginning to gear up for a crack-down on sub-standard home construction.

Troutt has stripped the city's building department to a "fighting trim" by laying off two extra inspectors and cutting back the hours of work for a third to help pay for the services of a special engineer firm which will be hired to inspect recently erected buildings in the community.

"It's in response to complaints from residents of the Meadows Subdivision," Troutt said. "The residents complained that Republic Builders and Kauffman and Broad have built sub-standard housing and we're going to check into it."

TROUTT ADDED that one home recently inspected in a "dry run" of the project, showed more than 20 deficiencies, including joints which didn't fit and poor cement work in the basement.

"The basement floor's cracking up," Troutt said. "And the floor of the whole house doesn't fit right."

"It's a disgrace these builders were allowed to construct sub-standard homes like these in Romulus."

"If there had been a crack-down in the past, I'll bet builders wouldn't hang around this community, let alone have the courage to sue us for a zoning change."

KAUFFMAN AND Broad has a suit against Romulus for a zoning from single family residential to multiple in the city's northwestern section.

Troutt has been fighting the suit since taking office.

"Some people seem to think we're being too harsh on these developers," Troutt said.

The mayor said the lay-offs in the building department were dictated by slowing economics in Romulus.

21 buildings face city demolition

Twenty-one building owners in Romulus will receive notices that they have to demolish their building structures, or face the consequences.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt's crew of inspectors has turned up 21 substandard buildings outside of the Detroit Metropolitan Airport and the Wayne-Beverly urban renewal area which should be removed.

"We're still working on policy," Troutt said. "But I imagine the owners will be given between 30 and 60 days to demolish the buildings, before the city moves in."

IF THE CITY must move in, the buildings will be demolished with funds for a special "demolition revolving charge" set up by Troutt to promote speedy justice for community eyesores.

Funds from the demolition kitty will be used to pay for the destruction of the sub-standard dwellings and buildings and the cost of the demolition will them be tacked onto the owner's tax bill.

"That way the citizens of the community won't have to look away when they travel down certain roads because of the unsightliness," Troutt said.

Schools may offer land

By KAY DeBORD
Of The Roman Staff

The City of Romulus may acquire more land for park development if the Romulus Board of Education accedes to the city's request to buy or lease school land adjacent to Merriman Elementary School for the sum of $1.

Gary Bingham, assistant director of responsive government, presented the city's request to the board Monday night. He said the city is considering putting between $64,000 and $80,000 into the development of the 8.1 acres it was interested in.

Tentative site plans, according to an outline presented to the board by Bingham, would include a ball diamond, tennis courts also planned for multi-purpose use, a parking area for 70 cars, restrooms, a pavilion, a picnic site and a wooded nature area.

A MAJOR factor to the considered by the board prior to the next meeting with city representatives, is alleviation of the drainage problems that have plagued the Merriman school area.

The city's plans indicate that the elimination of the flooding problem in the area is included in improvement and development of the park area.

The park, proposed as a community-neighborhood concept, would be fenced in with lighting in the parking and street areas, according to Bingham.

City representatives are to meet with Thomas M. Janack, assistant superintendent for maintenance and operations for the Romulus schools, with a report to be presented to the board at a later date.

Huron board hedges on funds for drainage intercept report

The plan to build a new "storm drain intercept" to divert Romulus and Huron Township's storm flow from its present costly course to the Detroit River has hit a minor snag.

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt said he has detected a reluctance on the part of the Huron Township Board of Trustees to go ahead with appropriations to study the feasibility of diverting storm flow to the Huron River rather than sending it through a series of ditches to the Detroit River and Lake Erie.

"The township's rough share of a $60,000 study the

Wayne County Drain Commission says is necessary is $10,000," Troutt said. "It seemed reluctant to spend the money.

"IF THE TOWNSHIP can't come up with $10,000 for a study now, I wonder how it will come up with the cost of the project."

More than 2,300 tickets are out for sale for the March 8 "Let's Light the Way Ball" sponsored by the Romulus Sports Fund Development Committee to help raise funds to light two fields in the city for night-time sporting events.

According to sports fund chairman, Mel Morgan, sales of the tickets are going well for the kick-off fund raiser of the $100,000 lighting project.

"We already have $4,200 in the kitty for lighting the football field at Romulus High School and the softball field at the new Elmer Johnson Park," Morgan said.

State council begins formation of local Knights of Columbus

The Michigan state council approved and authorized the establishment of a new council for the Belleville-Romulus-

Jaycees to honor Romulus woman

The date of March 19 has been set aside for the Romulus Jaycee Auxiliary to honor Romulus' women with their yearly "Outstanding Woman" award.

Applications for the award, given to the woman who best demonstrates the ideals of community betterment and exemplary womanhood in Romulus, will be accepted through March 7.

The award will be given at a special ceremony scheduled for March 19 at the Romulus City Hall.

At the same time, the Virginia Carmichael Award, in memory of the long-time community worker who died last November, also will be presented.

Any organization, church or civic group can nominate a worker for the award by filling out the accompanying form and mailing it to Mrs. Joe Wiater, P.O. Box 35, Romulus, Mich., 48174. Information on the award can be obtained by calling Mrs. Wiater at 941-5832.

New Boston area.

Robert Spear, deputy of the 41st district, said that the new council currently has 46 members enrolled. Of that figure 16 are transferees, seven are re-instatements and 23 are candidates who are awaiting the exemplification of their ceremonial degree rites of initiation.

ACCORDING TO Spear, another 150 persons have indicated interest in joining after the council is chartered and organized.

THE COUNCIL'S numerical designation will be made after its charter is completed. The designation of an institution class at which each knight registered also will be developed at that time.

All transfers, re-admissions and new members will become charter and founding members of the new council when the process is completed.

Spear said that impetus for the new council came from Kenneth Cathey, the immediate past head of the Bishop Albers General Assembly of the Lansing-Howell area.

THE NEW council will be named in honor of Father Maximilian Kolbe, a Polish martyr who gave his life at the Auschwitz Concentration Camp during World War II.

COUNCIL meetings will alternate between various parish facilities in the area until permanent facilities can be obtained.

Interested residents should apply at Key Manor, apartment 221, 35309 Michele, Romulus, to be a charter and founding member of the council.

Mahalak bill aids vets

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has introduced two bills which would give veterans of the Vietnam War job preference in public employment and establish a special deer hunting season for muzzle loaders.

Under the first bill state and local governments would be required to consider Vietnam veterans for public employment positions.

"The bill specifically adds veterans of Vietnam to an old law, which requires job preference by public employers for honorably discharged veterans of all U.S. wars," Mahalak said. "The purpose is to emphasize the need for job opportunities for those who served their nation honorably in the time of the Vietnam War. These young veterans deserve at least this much special consideration."

THE LAW covers state, county and municipal government employment. It includes interim appointments to elective office.

The veteran must have been a resident of the state for at least two years and a resident of the county, in which the office or position is located for at least one year and must have other requisite qualifications in order to receive the preferential treatment. The veteran cannot be disqualified because of age, loss of limb or other physical impairment, which does not incapacitate him for the job.

"This is a good law and one which now should be put to use to benefit our veterans of Vietnam," Mahalak said. "No man or woman should lose out on employment opportunities because they have taken time out of their lives to serve their country, especially in time of war. It is my hope that this law will be strictly followed by all public employers at all levels."

Mahalak is chairman of the house committee on military and veterans' affairs.

THE DEER hunting bill, introduced by Mahalak and Rep. Joseph Snyder of St. Clair Shores, would establish a hunting season from Dec. 1 to Dec. 20. It would be limited to muzzle loading rifles or shotguns loaded with a .44 calibre or larger round ball, propelled by black powder. The season would be limited to the taking of antlered male deer and would be restricted to zones 2 and 3 - Northern Michigan.

The regular firearms season for deer ends on Nov. 30.

"There has been rising interest in muzzle loaders," Mahalak said. "More and more people are obtaining and using these antique forms of firearms. It is a challenging sport. Many hunters have taken muzzle loaders and they would like to see a special season for their weapons. It makes it difficult for a hunter with a hefty muzzle loader when the woodlands are crowded with other hunters carrying modern weapons. They are two different types of hunters."

"A special Dec. 1 to Dec. 20 deer season for old-fashioned firearms would be an excellent idea. The number of hunters would be comparatively small and the toll of bucks would be light. It would not affect the regular season and the overall size of the deer herd."

To save Romulus money

Baumann watches spending in city's DPW

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

In these days of shortages, everyone has to watch just how much they use. And in Romulus it's no different.

So, a 22-year old Romulus man, Barry Baumann, may have the most important job in the Romulus Department of Public Works, outside of being a director of one of the DPW's divisions.

Baumann has been retained by Mayor Terry L. Troutt as a "watchman" for the city's goods. Acting under the title of "Inventory Control Officer," Baumann makes sure the city has the goods it purchased for DPW use, that purchases are made at the best price available and that gasoline isn't wasted.

"IT'S EVIDENT there was a problem in keeping track of materials in the past," Baumann said. "It could be that no one was around to handle the job."

"But now it appears that things are shaping up."

Baumann added that he came into the job with the attitude that someone should know where all tools and machinery used by the DPW workers are at all times.

'But now it appears that things are shaping up.'

"Someone has to be responsible for the use of equipment or it gets lost," he said.

HE INSTITUTED a "sign-in and sign-out" procedure at the department, where any worker using an item must sign a voucher indicating that he has it.

"In the past, the crib was left open and the equipment was taken at will," he added. "There were instances where equipment which could be used on the job and on household chores, was taken home and the worker forgot to bring it back the next day."

"Then when it was required to a city job, it wasn't available."

Now, each man must check in and check out his equipment, and will lose money if equipment isn't returned.

"In emergencies, we give the key to the crib to the foreman on duty," Baumann said. "That way, when something is needed for an emergency repair, it's available, and someone knows where it is at all times."

BAUMANN ALSO HAS taken on the responsibility of making sure that all city purchases are made at the best price.

"If something is needed - signs for instance - I'll phone around, and check various businesses for the best price," he said. "When I find what appears to be the lowest price, I check with our purchasing agent, Edmund Bizak Sr., and request his approval."

"Then the item can be purchased and we've saved some money."

Baumann estimates that since he has been on the job, the city has saved more than $5,000 on purchases.

"WE TRY TO KEEP our purchases as local as possible," Baumann said. "After all, these people pay taxes to the city."

"But we also have an eye on competitive prices and, if it saves tax dollars, we aren't adverse to traveling outside the city for purchases."

Baumann's third duty is making sure that gasoline supplies aren't squandered needlessly.

"We've instituted a 'credit card' system of purchasing," he said. "Every employee must sign for gasoline now before he can use it in a vehicle."

"WE'VE HAD special forms printed up, which require the employee to record the mileage on vehicles, the amount of gasoline he pumps and his name."

"That way, we not only make sure the employees are out on the job, but also can keep track of the vehicle's maintenance."

During January, when the city had to plow snow several times, vehicles used 4,600 gallons of gasoline. During December, when the weather was relatively mild and the need for gasoline wasn't as great, the city used 4,600 gallons.

"While it appears as though we used the same amount of gasoline both months, it actually reflects a savings," Baumann said. "After all, the vehicles have to travel much farther in plowing roads than they would in the mild weather of December."

AT THE SAME time, Baumann has checked into the low mileage of some vehicles to see if it can be improved.

"In one instance, the city's sewer crew trucks were getting 2.5 miles to the gallon," he said. "It seemed as though the trucks were in good running order, so we checked with the men and found that they left the motors running while they were on the job to warm up."

Romulus awards bids for park construction

More than $85,000 in bids for the Elmer Johnson Park construction in Romulus have been let by the city.

Part of "Phase I" of the construction of the park, the bids cover more than seven acres of improvement to the land including the installation of a baseball field and a parking lot.

Romulus Recreation Director Marie DeBuyscher said she expects the field to be completed by mid-May, in time for softball season.

In conjunction with the park, the Romulus "Let's Light the Way" committee is pushing for a $100,000 lighting program to promote night-time baseball at the Elmer Johnson Park and night-time football at the Romulus High School.

Erection of the lighting along with construction of the ball field at the park bring the initial cost of construction in "Phase I" to more than $100,000.

More than half the money for the construction was obtained from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources in the form of a park construction grant.

The city may apply for a similar grant to finish construction of the remaining 15 acres of the Elmer Johnson Park, a city spokesman said.

Huron hedges on study

"Huron's explanation is that it expects the airport to pick up the entire cost of the $60,000 study," Troutt said. "Of course, we'd like the airport to pay for the study, but we're willing to put in our $35,000 share if the airport isn't willing to pay for the whole thing."

"Still I think there's room for negotiation, such as giving the airport credit for the money it spends on the study, when the project gets underway."

THE STUDY, requested by the Wayne County Drain Commission, was required by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to prove that the Huron River - particularly the Flat Rock dam - can hold the extra storm flow from Romulus and Huron Township.

If it proves the project of diverting the storm flow is feasible, the project could begin.

Gas situation 'critical'

A telegram appealing for emergency fuel supplies for gasoline stations in the city, was sent Monday by Belleville Mayor Royce E. In his telegram to Washington, Mayor Smith said that "the local gasoline situation, as of Monday, in the City of Belleville, is critical."

Committee sells tickets to 'Light the Way Ball'

(Continued from Page A-1) MORGAN ADDED THAT the 40-member committee has been given the challenge of selling 10 tickets for each member at $10 apiece to raise initial funds for the lighting of the Elmer Johnson field.

"We're planning to make $10,000 for the lighting project at this dance," Morgan said. "But I told the committee if it doesn't get out and sell, it can't expect the rest of the community to sell tickets for the dance."

Scheduled for 7 p.m., March 8 in the UAW Local 157 Hall, 29841 Van Born Rd., Romulus, the dance will feature entertainment by two bands and free snacks and set-ups throughout the evening.

The UAW Hall holds 1,000 people, according to Morgan, so the dance will feature lots of company and good entertainment.

"WE'RE LOOKING for a good time," he said. "And since it all goes for such a good cause, we're hoping for an excellent turn-out."

Morgan added that extra tickets were printed for the dance to not only insure a sell-out at the hall, but also to afford residents an opportunity to contribute to the sports fund.

"Let's face it, the dance is secondary to the lighting," he said. "We're interested in completing a project started more than nine years ago, to show that a new united Romulus can progress where other communities have stopped."

Morgan added that shortly after the dance project is completed, Shirley Lombardi will begin to sell advertising in the historical ad book to be distributed by the committee.

"I ASKED Mrs. Lombardi to help organize a committee to sell ads in the book to area businesses and industries," Morgan said. "Though she is extremely busy, she accepted the project and I'm sure she'll do a good job."

At the same time, members of the committee will be approaching various civic clubs to solicit donations.

"We've been met with some good cooperation," he added.

"We're hoping the thing continues, so we can insure lighting both fields before fall."

The first step in the project will be to light the Elmer Johnson Park softball field.

"THAT'S THE first sport which will be available in the night-time to residents," Morgan said. "After we get that project squared away, we'll promote the lighting of the football field at the high school in time to allow night-time football in the fall."

If money is left over from both projects, Morgan said it may be spent on lighting one of the little-league baseball diamonds slated for Johnson Park.

"It will afford all residents the opportunity to enjoy night-time sports," Morgan added.

A deadly trail follows 'topless' trucks

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Enterprise-Roman Editor

You're driving along on the highway, several car-lengths behind a "topless" truck - and you shout a few choice words.

If you were lucky, the worse of it was a spray of hot ash or gravel bouncing off the front windshield - but for the majority of Michigan's motorists it means cracked windshields, serious injury or possible death.

Last year alone, Michigan motorists and their insurance companies paid out more than $5 million to replace windshields cracked by debris from uncovered trucks.

IN LAST MONTH'S issue of Motor News, a publication of the Automobile Club of Michigan, writer Tom Freel pointed out some alarming figures - and facts against topless trucks.

Freel said the campaign to require covers for trucks hauling loose cargo such as gravel was begun two years ago, and in that time the Automobile Club heard from more than 1,500 motorists who experienced the danger from uncovered trucks.

In the 26 years I have been driving, I've had the misfortune of three spray jobs by open-top trucks - the latest came several months ago on I-94. Lucky for me the only damage was a cracked windshield...for a few critical seconds I lost control of my car.

'A truck broke my windshield and I had to pick glass out of my six-month-old daughter.'

AS FOR GETTING the name of the trucking firm, that was out of the question. The trucker was hitting 70-plus and leaving a trail of bullet-like stones.

The real danger comes from double-tandem type trucks. About the only defense at this stage is to stay far behind the path of debris falling from a topless truck.

If conditions are so bad, as pointed out by the Automobile Club and other auto insurance agencies, why are trucks allowed to haul loose cargo with uncovered tops?

Last year the Legislature failed to act on a ban the topless truck proposal, and Freel points out several factors.

"THE TEAMSTERS AND trucking industry have strongly opposed such legislation in Lansing. The Associated Press stated that two bills that required covers for topless trucks were stalled in the Legislature and died in committee due to Teamster and trucking industry opposition."

This legislative year, there are three bills before committees that could help put a stop to the hauling of loose cargo by topless trucks. One such bill is being pursued by State Senator David A. Plawewski of Dearborn Heights.

The trucking firms claim a cover over loose cargo is impractical, but according to the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation - it has developed a cover that can be "hand cranked back and forth over a truck's cargo area in seconds."

This device, the state agency claims, is a simply nylon mesh and plastic cover. The cost for a standard truck would be about $100, and slightly higher for larger trucks.

WHILE WE RECOGNIZE the vital role the trucking industry performs, and the high taxes it pays for highway use - is it asking too much of the trucking industry to make our highways safer from falling debris and killer projectiles hurtling at motorists?

The drive to ban topless trucks goes beyond the interests of insurance companies paying out staggering amounts for broken windshields - the safety factor has no price tag.

Here are some hair-raising statements you may have experienced:

"A truck broke my windshield and I had to pick glass out of my six-month-old daughter," wrote one distressed mother.

Another upset mother wrote: "A large rock broke my windshield and showered glass on the baby in the front seat."

As we see it

Anti-crime tax levy would rob suburbia

If the proponents of a one-mill county anti-crime tax were looking for public direction, they found it at a recent "citizens' session" held at the Westland city hall.

The poor turnout of citizenry was not a case of public apathy, it was more a case of public dismay that County Commissioner Robert FitzPatrick would suggest higher taxes in a time period of inflation and unemployment.

While The Enterprise-Roman and every concerned citizen supports the war against crime, to suggest the burden of an additional 10-year tax millage at this time in Wayne County is a bit absurd.

We say absurd because of the tax-dollar distribution, which aims to take more out of Western Wayne County than the return.

For example, under the county plan Romulus citizens would be hit with an annual tax levy of $187,000 and would receive $121,000 of its payment in return; while Belleville taxpayers would realize a $4,000 loss in their annual $14,000 investment to "fight crime." Here are a few other foolhardy scales mapped out for neighboring Western Wayne County communities: Westland would invest $342,000 and in return would get a short-changed $312,000; Wayne would get a losing return of $97,000 for its $138,000; and Canton Township would also take a beating, getting $68,000 for its $114,000 tax payment.

While Belleville officials questioned the constitutional legality of the proposed county tax levy, Gary Bingamen of Romulus' Department for Responsive Government and members of the city council openly opposed the one-mill tax proposal.

The best assessment to come out of the tax meeting came from Westland council member Justine Barnes, who said: "I don't like the idea of 'Big Brother' telling us what to do with our budget."

The formula, if you can call it a formula, benefits Detroit to the tune of $52 million during the 10-year millage levy.

There must be some other avenue to assist Detroit's war against crime, but not at the expense of an already tax weary suburbia.

Diplomats relieved Solzhenitsyn's 'departure' saves detente

By TOM OCHILTREE
Washington Bureau Chief

WASHINGTON — By Forcing Nobel Prize winning author Alexander Solzhenitsyn into exile, Soviet authorities thoroughly shocked world opinion but restrained themselves just enough to avoid rupturing the slow-growing movement toward detente.

That, at any rate, is the widely held view of western diplomats who frankly were relieved that Solzhenitsyn was not treated with greater harshness.

Had the dissident writer of "The Gulag Archipelago" been executed or sent again to face the horrors of the Soviet penal system, which he described so vividly in his book, it would have been difficult for the Nixon Administration to expand American public support for an easing of east-west tensions. SELDOM SINCE the Bolshevik Revolution in the autumn of 1917 has any Soviet citizen skated on such thin ice as Solzhenitsyn and been let off as lightly.

Western Diplomats believe Solzhenitsyn's case reveals the following about the thinking of Soviet Communist Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev:

Poker-faced Brezhnev seems to be as anxious as the western side to keep detente going. He is willing to pay a price for this in return for our capital and technology to stimulate and modernize the soggy Soviet economy and give the Russian people more consumer goods.

The attitude of Communist China has to be of continuing concern in Moscow. And finally, to give Brezhnev his due, he probably realizes that a never ending arms race ultimately will break the backs of both the Soviet Union and the United States or lead to the unthinkable - an all-out nuclear war.

WHILE THE UNITED STATES government has made it clear many times that it regrets the way Soviet Authorities treat some Soviet citizens, the expulsion of Solzhenitsyn will not be used by Washington as a pretext to interfere with detente.

Shortly after the Russians hustled Solzhenitsyn out of the Soviet Union and into West Germany, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger gave newsmen this definition of the U.S. view of the matter:

"Our constant view has been that the necessity for detente does not reflect approbation of the Soviet domestic structure. The necessity of detente is produced by the inadmissibility of general nuclear war under present conditions. The accumulation of nuclear arms has to be constrained if mankind is not to destroy itself."

One question naturally arises from all this. IF THE RUSSIANS are as anxious for detente as we are, should we ask them to pay a higher price for such things as the credit and trade concessions would provide them?

In other words, should we up the ante and insist that Soviet authorities conduct the domestic affairs of their country in a more humane manner?

In a sense that was the signal Solzhenitsyn was giving to the west. He has been saying, in substance: Soviet leaders really need western help. Keep the pressure on them until they acknowledge the Bolshevik system's excesses of the past, call to account all those who participated in the mind boggling brutality of the Stalin era and free the Russian people once and for all from the shadow of secret police power.

THE QUESTION concerning the western bargaining attitude is not an easy one to answer. No country, and particularly one as big and powerful as the Soviet Union, will allow itself to be treated as a pariah.

The voicing of too much moral outrage in the west can bring counter-charges from Moscow that Western society is far from perfect in several respects.

But most of all, east and west alike will lose if detente collapses, voices on both sides keep suggesting.

Brezhnev links Nixon with detente chariot

Soviet people want better living conditions

(Editor's Note — Veteran newsman Tom Ochiltree writes the first of a four-part series entitled "Russia Revisited," starting today. Ochiltree's Leningrad-dated report touches on the Soviet bid to preserve the present detente with the United States.)

By TOM OCHILTREE
Washington Bureau Chief

LENINGRAD — Strong political shock waves undoubtedly would be felt by the Soviet Union's ruling hierarchy if Watergate brings about President Nixon's fall from power or the repudiation by Congress of his policy of East-West detente.

A definite linkage exists between the outcome of Watergate and the foreseeable course of American-Soviet relations.

This is the firm impression reinforced time after time during a short but surprisingly revealing visit to the Soviet Union.

THE DETAILS of the various incidents referred to collectively as Watergate seem almost trivial to the Russians with their system of one party rule. But the political fallout from Watergate is another matter causing the Russians considerable worry.

The current five-year plan, 1970-1975, for the first time emphasizes the need for producing more consumer goods.

The Soviet people expect to begin living better soon. They feel they have been fobbed off too many times in the past as the nation's leaders put the major emphasis on such things as building steel mills and launching space craft.

COMMUNIST PARTY leader Leonid Brezhnev has committed himself to detente, which links his chariot in a sense to Nixon's. The terms the Russians visualize for the easing of East-West tensions naturally are different from those being formulated by American officials, yet the general thrust on both sides appears much the same.

'We do not want to see Watergate undercut the course of events visualized by Chairman Brezhnev and President Nixon.'

As Brezhnev makes his moves he must keep an eye on Politburo member Mikhail Suslov, who speaks for the hardliners in the Kremlin, just as Nixon has to watch out that Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., does not sandbag him. The outline of his complex situation became clear to me during conversations in a pre-revolutionary palace, a place of crystal and gold and crimson splendor entitled the House of Friendship and Peace.

THE PARTY of 175 Americans with which I was touring was asked if any professionals in the group would like to meet for conversations with their Soviet opposite numbers.

Some 25 of us volunteered and were bused to the palace. I took part in a panel discussion involving Soviet and American journalists. In our group, at least, the Russian participants made only a minimum, half-hearted effort to repeat well worn propaganda points.

Their most articulate spokesman, a diplomatic correspondent for Leningrad

Pravda, leaned across the table and said: "The first consideration should be the status of the detente. We do not want to see Watergate undercut the course of events visualized by Chairman Brezhnev and President Nixon. That would not help either of our countries."

HE AGREED WITH the suggestion that the only alternative to detente would be an endless, ever more expensive arms race which in time would lower the living standards of everyone and bankrupt both superpowers. I suggested that if such a supposition was correct possibly historians 2,000 years from now might look back upon our world and compare an unchecked Soviet-American arms race with the extravagant waste of effort and money exhibited when ancient Egypt built the pyramids. That imagery seemed to capture the Russians' attention.

So far as Watergate is concerned, the Russians made it clear they were not interested particularly in what did or did not occur. They took the position, surprisingly similar to that often voiced by Nixon's supporters in the United States, that certain eastern newspapers, news magazines and television networks were whipping up a great froth of a scandal out of almost nothing.

AMERICANS SHOULD not be jarring "President Nixon's arm, they suggested, at a time when he and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger are engaged in important diplomatic moves.

It was particularly clear that the Russians want to obtain trade and credit concessions from the United States. They visualize exchanging some of their raw materials, such as natural gas, for American financial and technological help in stimulating Soviet industry.

Watergate keeps capturing the headlines, but historically the current debate in the United States on American-Soviet relations may be much more important.

THESE QUESTIONS in particular keep cropping up:

—Should we accept Soviet professions of peaceful coexistence at face value?

—Is detente an accomplished fact or is it a political ploy exploited with great skill by the other side?

—Is it safe to extend "most favored nation" (MFN) treatment and long term credits to the Russians in the interest of expanding world trade?

Sen. Jackson and those who think like him remain skeptical of Soviet intentions. They feel the U.S. government already gave away too much in the original agreement on nuclear arms limitation. In their eyes Americans are victimized by the Russians in the wheat deal.

ON THE OTHER SIDE of the coin there are people in high places in the Soviet Union, I was told, who take the same suspicious view of American motives and actions.

Believers in detente in both the United States and Soviet Union have one thing going for them. Their position is the "hopeful" option. The alternative is endless cold war which could be punctuated by peripheral hot wars or even the human race's final horror - a full-scale nuclear exchange between the world's two superpowers.

The early years of formation

Belleville, Romulus and New Boston

This week we will touch upon the early formation days of Belleville, Romulus and New Boston.

Belleville was incorporated as a city in 1946. Its history traces back to 1826 when Archibald Fleming and Samuel McNath and their two sons settled there. The town was laid out in 1834.

THE BUILDING of the Wabash Railroad (now Norfolk and Western) in 1881 was Belleville's railroad station, known then as French Landing. In land size, Belleville measures 0.96 square miles with a 1970 census population report of 2,406.

Belleville sits in the middle of Van Buren Township, with access to the southern shoreline of Belleville Lake — a manmade lake developed from the waters of the Huron River.

Romulus became a city in May, 1970. It was created in 1835 from part of Huron Township, one of the original nine townships in Wayne County. The first known resident was a French-Canadian by the name of Samuel Polyne, who immigrated in 1826.

The village of Romulus was platted and recorded in 1836 and eventually came to be known as "Pullens Corners." This is the section which is claimed to have played an important role during the period of the underground railroad in the transportation of escaped slaves from the south.

THE VAST AND still expanding Metropolitan Airport occupies approximately one-sixth of the city's 36 square miles.

Romulus has a population of 22,879 — for an increase of more than 7,000 since the 1960 federal census.

New Boston is one of three residential settlements in Huron Township — and as the township's most dominant residential area...it serves as the seat of Huron's township government.

New Boston was first settled in 1820, and is situated in the northwest corner of the township.

Board to name staff aid

A decision on the appointment of an assistant principal at Belleville's South Junior High School is scheduled to be announced by the Van Buren Board of Education at tomorrow night's special session.

Seven candidates, seeking the position, have been interviewed by members of the board of education and administrative staff members.

The new staff member will fill a vacancy created by the death of Mrs. Helen Nass. Mrs. Nass, who had been a member of the teaching staff for the Van Buren Public School District since 1944, died of a heart attack in December.

Among the candidates seeking the post at South Junior High School are William Houston and John Forsythe, both teachers at the school; Emil Jones, a Belleville High School teacher, and Raymond Gross, a teacher at the Elwell Elementary School.

The remaining candidates are from outside the school district.

Forty gather for shower

'AROUND THE TOWN', in this last issue for February, finds 'ladies-in-waiting' very much in the news since a trio of expectant mamas enjoyed the fun of being honorees at parties this week.

Sunday afternoon some 40 relatives and friends of Connie Chudzinski answered invitations to a stork shower held at the Savage Road home of her sister-in-law, Mary Ann Chudzinski. Corinne Squelch (Connie's mother) was co-hostess and Margaret Chudzinski assisted in conducting card bingo and several pencil games.

Connie and her husband, Paul, who reside in Houghton Lake, defied the weather and made it to Belleville early on the week-end but others who'd planned to attend from that vicinity found themselves snow-bound.

Mid-way in the opening of gifts the group enjoyed a buffet supper; the table being centered with a special bootie-studded sheet cake. Betty Schlieff and Cassie Chudzinski helped with the coffee and punch.

Guests were present from Temperance, Romulus, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Port Huron, Belleville, and Sandusky, Ohio.

Students host surprise party

THE SIXTH hour shorthand class at Belleville High pulled off a surprise cradle shower for their teacher, Kris Luxon, last Friday. Getting in the classroom earlier, the girls decorated with colorful balloons and streamers and had a special cake waiting on the desk. And in keeping with the honoree's profession, the inscription 'Happy baby' was written in shorthand.

Members of the class, who presented Mrs. L. with all those little things for an expected heir's nursery, included Robin Bracken (whose mother made the cake), Sharon La Fray, Tammy Hink, Claire Volk, Sue Smith, Bonnie Turrentine, Carol Dickerson, Diane Wiggins, and Bonnie Coldiron.

Still others were Chris Krystyniak, Barb Messer, Robin Hammond, Carol Hampton, Ginny Dye, Sher Buckner, Laurie Bevard, Kathy St. John, Cheryl Teall, Barb Krotzer, Jan Parker, Maureen Crosswell, Micki Cunningham, and Karen Gafney.

Stopping in for a peak at the gifts and to add their good wishes were Kaseen Cohen, Linda Grantham, Linda Hines and Cindy Pfeifer.

Mom-to-be is shower honoree

ALSO AWAITING the birth of her first child, Jennie Miles of Romulus spent Friday evening at the home of a close friend, Florence Schmidt in Dearborn, where party plans were geared strictly for 'baby talk'. Dorothy Hammond of Royal Oak and Cindy Jarrows of Livonia were co-hostesses for the shower which included mostly former school friends of the honoree.

Progressive bunco was played and during each round several gifts were presented to the mother-to-be. Her 12-year old sister, Wendy Wilson, helped with the ribbons and wrappings.

A salad buffet followed the games and the table centerpiece, fresh baby mums, carnations and baby's breath, was awarded to Helen McDaniels of Dearborn who'd amassed the most points in a 'what's in the handbag' contest.

The 18 guests included Mrs. M's mother, Katherine Wilson of Dearborn, and her sisters, Diane Doyle of Plymouth and Mary Anne Hobbs of Lake Orion.

Daughter's illness prompts warning

JANICE FRENCH returned to her ninth grade classes at North Junior High after having been a medical patient at Belvil Community Hospital for a week. The 14-year old daughter of the D.H. Frenchs, Janice became very ill at school and was rushed to the doctor who diagnosed her problem as diabetes; Janice being on the verge of diabetic coma.

He admitted her to the hospital where further tests were made and appropriate measures taken. Because Janice had been in apparent good health, the news came as quite a jolt to her family.

And lest someone else's child come as near the life or death situation their daughter experienced, the Frenchs want others to be aware of the signs of diabetic coma, (which may come on rapidly) - an urge for sweets, unpleasant breath, loss of appetite, abdominal discomfort, and drowsiness of giddiness. Most of the symptoms occurred just before Janice was taken from school last week.

Here 'n there... around the town

MRS. IMOGENE PENCE and daughter, Karen, were at Fort Knox, Kentucky recently for the graduation ceremony of Karen's fiancé, Pvt. William Hall, who'd completed basic training with Bravo 19-5. He will now report to Fort Dix, New Jersey for eight weeks then be stationed at Fort Carson, Colorado. LITTLE KERRY Moore, daughter of the H.J. Moores of Belleville, was one year old last Tuesday and had the fun of demolishing the miniature birthday cake which was set on her high chair tray. Her grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Pearson of Ann Arbor, made the little cake and also the larger carousel creation which was served to guests. Mr. Pearson and sons, Jonathon and Karl, enjoyed the festivities along with the Robert Pearsons and baby daughter, Janna, from Ypsilanti.

She's called Melanie Ann

Fred and Ruth Thom of 45089 Harris Road, Belleville, are announcing the birth of their first child, a baby girl, February 15 at Women's Hospital in Ann Arbor. The 15 oz. newborn has been titled Melanie Ann. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Rae Thom and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Runyon, all of Belleville.

Kae Wenzel weds

Newly wed Hartfords honeymoon in Hawaii

A two week honeymoon in the Hawaiian Islands followed the recent marriage of Kae Wenzel and Jay Hartford, both of Belleville. Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Ypsilanti was reserved for the six o'clock ceremony which was read by Pastor Wilson Kotchenruther.

Music for the double ring rite included 'Hawaiian Wedding Song' and 'Almost There' prior to the service; 'More' as the mothers came up the aisle; and 'The Wedding March.' Vicki Mayo, a fellow teacher of the bride's from Haggerty school, was soloist with Jerry Hubbard playing the organ.

Parents of the bride are Arthur Wenzel of 109 Madelon Street, Belleville, and Mrs. Kenneth Watson of 12511 Addison, Tacoma, Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hartford of 46550 Geddes Road, Belleville, are the bridegroom's parents.

KAE APPROACHED the altar on the arm of her uncle, Harvey Wenzel, and was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding day she selected a white velvet gown patterned in the Victorian mode with a high neckline, leg o' mutton sleeves, fitted waistline and cathedral-length train. Accenting the dress were ruffles at the sleeves and white rosepointe lace.

A velvet Victorian headdress embellished with lace and pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion and a bouquet of white roses, miniature white carnations, holly, baby's breath and red and green pearls completed her ensemble.

The bride's cousin, M.J. Walters of Belleville, served as maid of honor in a red velvet frock fashioned with an empire waist, high collar, long sleeves and an eight-inch flounce at the hemline.

Alternating in green and red velvet gowns were Mrs.

Janie Clemons of Plymouth; Sharon Merecki from Northville; Mrs. Beyerly Miles, a college friend from North Carolina; Kathy Belter, another college friend from Grosse Pointe; and Maxine Leonard, a cousin from Belleville.

The honor maid was distinguished by the peppermint carnations, holly and red and green ribbons on her white muf. The bridesmaids were topped with red carnations, holly and ribbons to match their dresses. Their headgear, soft velvet bows, also matched.

ALL THE holly used for the church, in the bouquet and boutonnières were flown in from the bride's mother's home in Tacoma two weeks before the wedding.

Best man was Ron Clemons of Plymouth. The corps of ushers included Jim Hartford of Plymouth and John and Dick Wenzel of Belleville, all brothers of the bride; John Russell of Belleville; and Buddy Hammick of Chelsea. Seating the guests were Marve Wenzel of Belleville and Art Wenzel of Milan, brothers of the bride, and Robert Stamper of Belleville, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Members of the younger set in the wedding party were five-year old twins, Doug and Dana Stamper, children of the Robert Stammers of Belleville. Dana was dressed in a little white velvet frock accented with a red velvet collar, matching ribbon at the waist and a red velvet ruffle at the hem. She, too, carried a muf adorned with holly and peppermint carnations.

FOR HER daughter's wedding Mrs. Watson chose a long red polyester gown trimmed in gold. Mrs. Hartford donned a long-sleeved pink polyester formal with silver accents. Both were presented with corsages of white roses and holly tied in ribbon to match their gowns.

THE U.A.W. Hall, Local 735, Belleville, was reserved for the reception which followed. Some 500 guests were on hand to congratulate the young couple who are now making their home at 2979 Roundtree Boulevard, Ypsilanti.

The Hartfords are both 1972 graduates of Eastern Michigan University. Kae is currently on the teaching staff at Haggerty Elementary School and Jay is with Chrysler Corporation in Ann Arbor working as a quality control foreman.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal buffet which was held at the Robert Stamper home on Henry Street, Belleville.

Many aliases

The beef heel of round has many aliases. Regionally it has been labeled and known as Pike's Peak, Diamond, Denver or Horseshoe Roast. This fanciful labeling has caused considerable shopping confusion. Under the new standard identity system, it's labeled BEEF ROUND, indicating species and primal or wholesale cut, on the first line and HEEL OF ROUND on the second.

Study Club elects new officers

The Belleville Junior Study Club met at the home of Martha Conley for its February 20 meeting. President Phyllis Smith presided. Department heads read the reports they had written and sent to the State Federation chairmen and all projects for the past year were reported.

Election of officers for the next two years resulted in Carol Fitch, president; Barb Boelter, vice-president; Sharon Matthews, recording secretary; Patt Gamble, corresponding secretary; and Sharlene Tator, treasurer. The nominating committee included Martha Conley, Jayne Atchinson and Sharlene Tator.

Co-hostesses for the evening were Jo Gerrish and Jayne Atchinson who decorated their refreshment table in a red and white Valentine theme.

On fire lines

Women have served as forest fire lookouts for decades. Last year they started working beside the men clearing fire lines and fighting flareups with shovel, rake and pulaski tool.

MELODRAMA UNFOLDS — In keeping with the February theme of 'hearts and flowers', members of the Belleville Study Club presented a clever skit titled 'A Valentine Folly' under the direction of Mrs. Thurston Jahr, club president, (standing, right.) The old-fashioned melodrama had a one-night stand at the club's February 13 meeting and starred (from left) Mrs. Don White as Father Time; Mrs. Lester Corzine, mother; Mrs. Rodney Mast, heroine; Mrs. Irving Wallace, hero; and Mrs. Royce Smith, villain. Stage effects were handled by Mrs. Gerald Miller and Mrs. Thomas Books (seated, front.)

Got a headache? You've also got lots of company!

The subject of headaches, as the increasing number of research studies will attest, is a continuing concern to doctors as well as the some 20 million victims of one of the world's most common and oldest ailments, reports the Health Insurance Institute.

Following the progress of research on the headache - which most doctors term a symptom rather than a disease - is an evergrowing number of clinics around the country as well as one entire scientific organization, the American Association for Study of Headache.

get that way? Theories for migraine - one of the most severe forms of headache - range from allergies and gland disturbances to hereditary chemical imbalances. Among its victims it numbers more women than men.

Most common headaches, according to doctors, stem from tensions, fatigue, fever, lack of sleep, a missed meal or a hangover. The pain - usually described in those TV commercials as "splitting," "piercing," "pounding" or "dull" - can come on the victim after a tense family confrontation, working furiously on Friday, to make a weekend train, a sudden withdrawal from frequent coffee-drinking - or just "out of the blue."

While ancient cures for severe headaches run the gamut from piercing the skull to let out evil demons to feeding the victim a portion of cow's brains, today's doctor-prescribed anti-headache weapons include tranquilizers, anti-depressants and a rye derivative, Ergotamine Tartrate, which constricts dilated blood vessels in the head. In cases of recurrent headaches triggered by tensions or stress situations, often psychological help is advised to uncover emotional reasons for the pain.

Growing faster

One reason producers have been able to keep up with increasing consumer demand for beef is the phenomenal increase in the growth rate of animals due to genetic improvements and increased feeding efficiencies. This means a sharp reduction in the time required from range (ranch) to range (kitchen). It now takes less than 15 months from the time a calf is born until it grows into an 1,100 pound steer. Forty years ago the process took about three years.

Yet another new approach to meet the problem head-on, demonstrated recently, is a "Tranquility Machine" which utilizes electrodes and works on the theory that electric stimulation will benefit the area where the headache occurs. However, its recent demonstration in New York, newspaper accounts reported, left medical spectators in

Speedy chops

A dramatic decrease in the time required to grow meat animals has helped producers keep pace with the soaring demands of our nation's population growth combined with its ever-increasing appetite for meat. For example, the time required to produce a market weight hog from birth has been cut by two-thirds - from approximately 18 months to a mere six. Advancing technology in scientific breeding and feeding has made it possible.

Trial set in bar's shooting

A Belleville man, Frankie W. Skaggs of 210 Henry St., has been bound over for trial to Wayne County Circuit Court on a charge of felonious assault, following a pre-trial hearing before 34th District Court Judge James B. Stone in Romulus.

Skaggs has been charged in the shooting of Bruce Hiser at the Willis Bar, at Willis and Sumpter roads in Sumpter Township on Jan. 28 during a bar dispute.

Hiser, who suffered a gunshot wound of the neck, has been released from the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Skaggs, who is free on a $1,500 bond, stood mute during arraignment on the charge Jan. 29. A plea of not guilty was entered for him by Judge Stone.

Conviction on the felonious assault charge carries a maximum penalty of four years in prison.

The sea attends school

The wonders of the oceans will become fact for fourth and fifth grade students at Romulus Elementary School with the institution of another dimension to their social studies curriculum.

With the aid of a program called "Man and the Ocean," students will be able to trace with their fingers the contours of the ocean floor and find its continental margins, mid-ocean ridges and volcanic islands.

The mock-up of the ocean comes equipped with raised reliefs and caverns that the youngsters can discuss, peer into and physically probe during their study.

The model is covered with a plastic overlay with water printed in transparent blue to reveal the ocean floor.

She's tops in school spell down

A member of the sixth grade at the Sumpter Elementary School, Anne Baxter, has won the school's spelling bee championship.

Anne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Baxter of 46490 Judd Rd., Belleville, also won the championship for her grade level. Dawn Grady was the winner of the fifth grade spelling bee.

Battling Anne for more than an hour for the school's championship were Sharon Dyer, who placed second; James Stockwell, third; Denise Breen, fourth, and Mike Wojciechowski, fifth.

Anne will receive a personalized copy of the American Heritage Dictionary, a bronze medal and a certificate of championship. The victory qualifies her to represent Sumpter Elementary School at the district spelling bee on April 3.

Club gets baseball preview

Members of the First Friday Club of Western Wayne County are in for a sneak preview this week of what to expect from the Detroit Tigers this baseball season.

Vince Doyle, regarded as Detroit's "most popular Irish sports announcer," will head for the Tigers' spring training camp after he addresses Friday's noon luncheon of the First Friday Club.

The veteran WWJ sportscaster traces his sports interest to two years as a minor league player with the Rome and Auburn, N.Y. teams in the old Canadian-American baseball league.

WHILE ATTENDING his alma mater, Notre Dame University, Doyle also helped coach the Irish baseball and basketball teams—during World War II Navy Athletic training programs at Notre Dame.

And he smiles about the highlight of his professional baseball career.

"I was sent in to pinch hit against former Yankee star Tommy Byrne, then pitching for the Newark Bears," he said. "The sacks were jammed. I hit a screaming liner down third base, George Stinewiss, another former Yankee great stabbed it—to set up a triple play."

Doyle joined Radio Station WWJ on July 15, 1968—coming to the Detroit-based station from Indiana.

IN ADDITION to his morning sports reports, Doyle also writes a sports column in The Michigan Catholic.

Gene O'Grady, First Friday Club president, said the public is invited to attend Friday's luncheon-program, but stressed that reservations must be made by this Wednesday. Reservations can be made by calling 721-2257.

The Friday luncheon-program will be held at the Notre Dame Council, Knights of Columbus hall at 35100 Van Born in Wayne.

Trustees to appoint new head

The appointment of a full-time recreation director by the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees is awaiting the recommendations of the township's parks and recreation commission.

Twenty-eight applications have been received by the township clerk, Patricia Cullin, for the job as the township's first full-time post of parks and recreation director.

Mrs. Cullin has reviewed the applications before submitting them to the parks and recreation commission for its recommendations prior to final selection by the township trustees.

The township is seeking a full-time director to handle the duties of the parks and recreation department.

Jaycees finalize jelly plans

Romulus residents have an opportunity to purchase jelly and benefit their community at the same time by participating in the annual Romulus Jaycee Jelly Week sale.

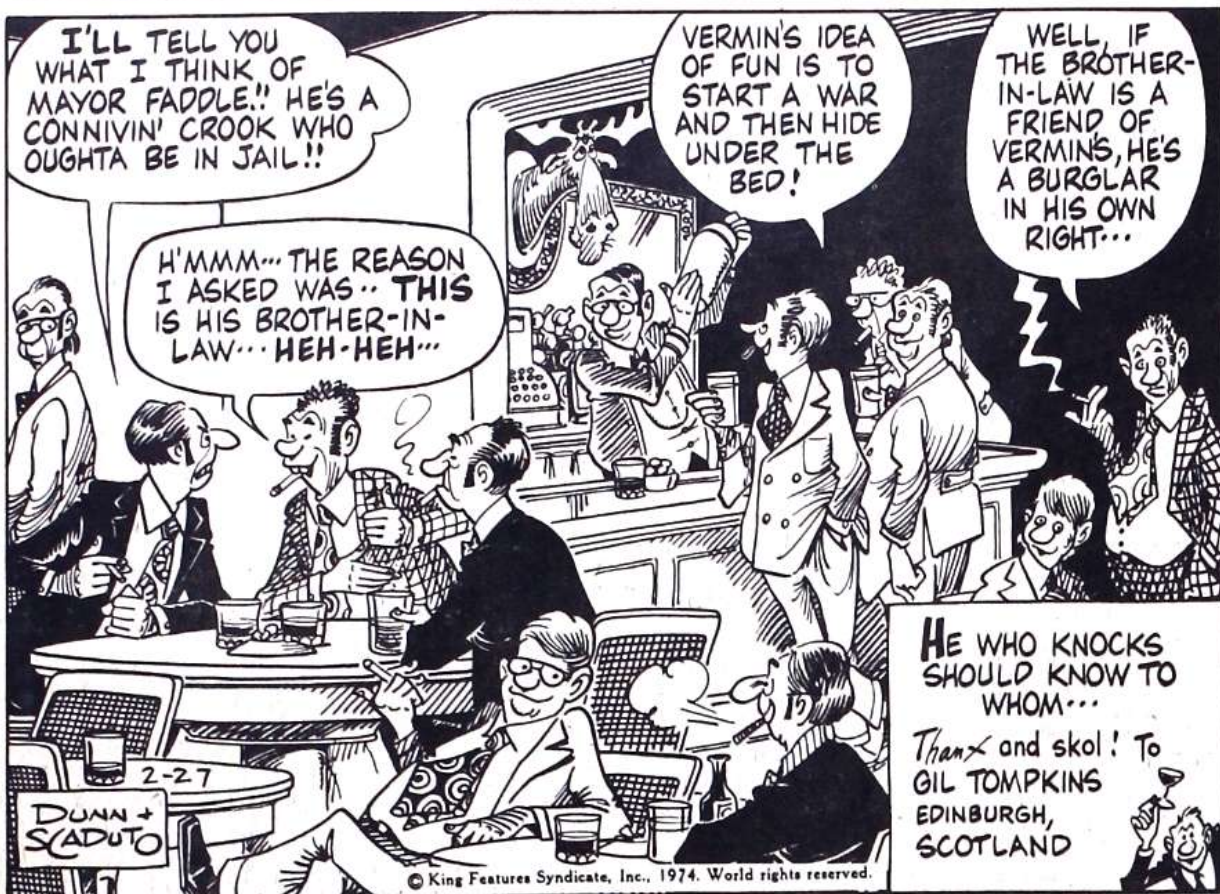

Scheduled for the weeks of March 17 and 31, Jelly Week is designed to raise funds for the Romulus Jaycees, who in turn pour those funds back into community-betterment projects.

The Romulus chapter raised some $1,400 during last year's Jelly Week. Michigan Jaycees raised more than $160,000.

This year's funds, raised through the annual project, will be distributed to the Family and Neighborhood Services program and to a program for mental retardation.

Jaycees will be on hand at Romulus' banks March 22 and 29, and will be selling jelly door-to-door March 23 and 30.

They'll do it every time

South Junior High uses choir to introduce school programs

The concert choir at Belleville's South Junior High School is completing a busy February performance schedule.

The choir sang at a recently held student assembly at the Edgemont Elementary School, and have made repeat performances this month at the Rawsonville Road, Elwell and Sumpter elementary schools.

At the Edgemont Elementary School performance, the choir was assisted by two other groups—"The Choraliers," a group of 18 girls, and "The Greasy Spoon," six young men who sang songs of the late 1950s. "THE Choraliers" started the program with two folk songs: "The Fisherman" by Judy Collins and "Follow Me" by John Denver.

The six young men, dressed in tapered blue jeans and white socks, performed two oldies, "Under the Boardwalk" and "Duke of Earl" complete with dance routines.

The concert choir then sang several songs, including "Ramblin' Man," with guitar accompaniment by Mrs. Mary Louise Pilcher, "Morning has Broken" by Cat Stevens and "Early Morning Rain" by Gordon Lightfoot both accompanied by Theresa Bowles on piano.

For the grand finale, the choir sang a rock song by Paul McCartney, "Band on the Run," accompanied by John Readale on drums and Brad Davidson on piano.

THE CONCERT choir enjoys performing, but their main goal is to inform the elementary students as to what classes are available when they reach junior high school level and to show how enjoyable singing can be. Mrs. Pilcher, their conductor, said that they are gaining valuable performing experience and building good citizenship with the performances.

Youth group hosts religious concert

The Huron Valley Youth for Christ will present the former night club personality, Dave Boyer, and the personable and youthful husband-wife duo team, Steve and Maria Gardener in concert at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The concert will be held at the Pioneer High School Auditorium in Ann Arbor. There is no admission charge.

Boyer's story is a fascinating one in contemporary religious history, a spokesman for the group said.

Edgemont School has art show and supper

The Edgemont Elementary School in Belleville will host a pancake supper and art open house from 5 to 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the multi-purpose room at the school.

The pancake supper is being sponsored by the school's PTO, and the art open house is under the direction of the school's art teacher, Mrs. Debbie Imerson.

The menu will be all the pancakes you can eat, sausage links, applesauce and milk or coffee.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults, $1 for children, 13 years old and under, and 25 cents for pre-schoolers. Tickets will be available at the door.

While the supper is in progress, classrooms will be open so that visitors may view the children's art work.

The proceeds will be used for further school improvements.

Boosters to stage fun game

Members of the Detroit Lions football team will play the faculty of Huron High School and members of the Huron Athletic Booster Club in a basketball game at the school at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Tickets for the game cost $2 for adults and $1 for children and are available at the door or from a booster club member.

Proceeds from the game will be used towards the purchase of a whirlpool for the high school's athletic program.

County delays decision on airport police hike

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has delayed action on a proposal to increase the strength of the two policing forces at Detroit Metropolitan Airport following a plea from Commissioner Tom Taylor that "something's wrong."

The board of commissioners sent a proposal to increase the strength of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol and of a special force being maintained by the Wayne County Road Commission back to the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee, following Taylor's plea.

Taylor said he fought the "classic double dip by government agencies," based on "experience which tells me something's wrong."

"A FEW months ago, the commissioners allowed the road commission and the sheriff's road patrol to enter into an agreement which split the policing duties at the airport," Taylor said. "I fought it at that time, but it passed."

"Now they have both come back and have asked to increase the strength of the commissioners originally agreed to — the road commission wants to increase the strength of the force, protecting the terminals, from 50 to 60, and the road patrol wants to increase the strength of the force, watching the parking lots and roads, from 42 to 53."

"The sheriff's department gave up policing the terminals, a job it did with 42 men, and now asks for an increase in strength."

Taylor said the problem is a "classic double dip by government agencies where we set up two like agencies with overlapping overhead for no good reason."

"I SEE no reason why the job couldn't be done by one agency," he said. "The sheriff's department comes back requesting 10 new patrol men and one secretary to handle less work."

"The entire proposal is in direct opposition to the board's philosophy expressed to townships, which become cities."

"It would seem there are other alternatives for policing the airport, possibly installing more closed-circuit television observation points rather than hiring more high-priced police officers."

Zoning opens land to hospital

The Belleville Planning Commission has recommended approval of a proposed amendment to the city's zoning ordinance calling for a rezoning of a 65-acre land parcel for the construction of Belleville's new multi-million dollar hospital complex.

The land site present zoned single-family and light industry is located at Sheldon and Savage roads.

The zoning ordinance amendment calls for the establishment of a new zoning classification for a hospital district.

The rezoning petition was filed by the Belvil Community Hospital Association, Inc., a non-profit corporation, which owns and operates the Belvil Community Hospital, a 71-bed medical facility located at 105 Main St.

THE ASSOCIATION'S new $5 million $5 million hospital—to be known as the Belleville Memorial Hospital—will be a 125-bed facility.

William E. Hinchey, hospital administrator, recently said the association had purchased the land site for $322,125 on the approval of the hospital's board of directors.

The city council has scheduled a public hearing on the rezoning and planning commission action. The hearing will be held Monday in the council chamber, 6 Main St., Belleville.

Without the new hospital district classification, the land parcel could have been zoned for multiples, according to a planner.

BELLEVILLE Mayor Royce E. Smith said he didn't want the land parcel zoned multiple in case the plans for the hospital fell through.

"No way are we going to have multiples on that land," he added. "The land is wet and drainage problems would result from a multiple construction complex."

The mayor said that he expects the council to approve both the zoning ordinance amendment and the planning commission's recommendation for the rezoning.

Commonwealth bank names new branch head in Belleville

Kirila replaces Roy Ramsey of Van Buren Township, who presently is on a sick leave. Kirila and his wife, Elizabeth, are the parents of four children, two sons and two daughters.

He was born in Detroit, but raised in Romania. He returned to Detroit after World War II.

He received his high school education while in Europe and later attended Wayne State University, where he graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in languages.

Kirila is a musician. He plays the violin at St. Mary's Church in Dearborn, where he also is the choir director.

For Class A regional tourney

Romulus, Belleville qualify wrestling hopefuls

GERALD MALECEK
'Satisfied'

Though Romulus Jim Stallings had "mixed feelings" about his team's performance at the Trenton district on Saturday, he was optimistic that the Eagles will be a strong contender for the state Class A championship.

Romulus qualified four for this Saturday's Regionals at Bedford Temperance, while Belleville had three survivors. Those who survive the grueling regional test will advance to the state finals which will be held the following Saturday in Grand Rapids at Calvin College.

ROMULUS will be represented by Phil Ford

(115), Brad Smith (141), Rudy Williams (148) and heavyweight Henry Reid; Belleville's entries include Hubert Russell (135), Randy Slocum (158) and George Medley (170).

"It turned out pretty much the way we had it figured out," said Stallings, after the district competition, "except for one weight class, that is."

The exception was the elimination of Lamar Sandusky, who failed the district test. Sandusky was ousted by Melvindale's Matt Martin, 4-1.

"I feel our strategy backfired on us," continued Stallings. "Lamar had wrestled at 105 most of the year and I'm sure he would have gotten out of the district at that weight class, however, we moved him down a weight class and he was beaten.

"Lamar's a sophomore, so he has two more years ahead of him and I'm sure you're going to hear a lot about him before his prep career is over with," the Romulus coach added.

STALLINGS pointed out his team will fare well at the state meet "because the tougher the competition, the better we will do."

"And I expect to take all four guys right through to the state tournament," he said.

Belleville Coach Jerry Malecek was pleased with the team's performance, but felt heavyweight Don Hix should have survived the district.

"I just feel Don is a better wrestler than some of the people who qualified," said Malecek, "that's all there is to it. In order to get seeded, though, you have to have a winning season. However, Hix is a first year wrestler and didn't really start showing his ability until the end of the year, and right now he is one of the best."

Wayne Memorial, qualifying an unprecedented 11 of its 12 entries, captured the Trenton District title with a total of 40 points. Runerup was Westland John Glenn with 29, while Temperance Bedford and Romulus followed with 27½ and 21 points, respectively.

Belleville garnered 13 points which gave the Tigers sole possession of seventh place.

Meet results: 1. Walled Lake Central (33½), 2. North Farmington (28½), 3. Walled Lake Central (19½), 4. Annapolis (17½), 5. GC West (17½), 6. Farmington (16), 7. Plymouth (15½), 8. Redford Union (15), 9. Thurston (15), 10. Livonia Stevenson (11), 11. Northville (10), 12. Crestwood (9½), 13. Churchville (8), 14. Milford (7½), 15. Livonia Franklin (4), 16. Garden City East (4), 17. Farmington Harrison (3), 18. Livonia Bentley (1).

Second-guessing

Recruiting, polls assailed by Marquette's McGuire

By DALE GOWING
Sports Writer

Unshaven and looking somewhat bedraggled in a wrinkled, charcoal-colored trench coat, the weary man made his decree.

"Those three losses this season won't hurt UCLA in the end...they'll still win the NCAA tournament," he declared. "Bill Walton is just too good and John Wooden is a miracle coach."

"BUT I DO think this is the end of their dynasty over college basketball. UCLA has no more Jabbar or Walton coming up and the Pacific 8 is improving. It'll be up for grabs next year."

AL MCGUIRE
staying at the Airport Hotel at Metro Airport and had a short workout in the Belleville High School gym Friday afternoon.

MCGUIRE, WHO confesses his age only as "in my mid-forties," is one of the top five most respected coaches in all of college basketball. His Warriors are a perennial inhabitant of a position in the Top 10 each season and haven't missed reaching the Top 5 in five years. Ranked seventh now by United Press International and ninth by the Associated Press, the Milwaukee school owned fourth place in the polls earlier in the season before being upset by South Carolina.

McGuire's teams have won 20 games in each of the last eight seasons, and Saturday's easy victory over U-D was Marquette's 21st of the current campaign. The Warriors have also gone to postseason tournaments each of the last seven seasons.

ALTHOUGH COLORFUL on the bench, the New York-born McGuire was softspoken before his team's practice at Belleville, partially because he was weary from the previous night's game at New York's Madison Square Garden against Manhattan College, where the Warriors snapped the hosts' seven-game home court winning streak, and the turbulent plane ride to Detroit just an hour earlier.

McGuire, who loves to walk, was oblivious to a slight drizzle emerging from the murky skies as he strolled around the Belleville school grounds offering his wisdom on various subjects related to basketball.

"Yes, UCLA will take it again this year," he repeated confidently in his Brooklyn accent. "Walton's just too good on any given night. And I think they should still be ranked number one. North Carolina State doesn't deserve to be number one and Notre Dame isn't good enough for number two."

"WHY HAS UCLA LOST three this season? I think it's senioritis. It can be harder for seniors to properly prepare for games than juniors. Also, the PAC-8 is improving this year, as Oregon and Oregon state indicated."

But McGuire then admitted that rankings - or polls - really have no meaning. "They're a news item, there's no other value to them. The polls are something for Monday and Tuesday papers to print. They create interest."

"But players have a tendency to get tight about the polls. When they get ranked high they can choke. That's what so remarkable about Wooden and UCLA - they never get tight."

McGuire has had his share of superstars at Marquette, including Dean Meminger, Don Kojis, Jim Chones and Larry MacNeill to name a few. All are playing professionally today but two of them - Chones and MacNeill - never had a chance to reach their absolute potential at Marquette.

And that's because they quit school in their junior years and signed with the pros as hardship cases. McGuire has been one of the unluckiest coaches in that respect - losing stars with more than a season left of eligibility - and hopes it won't happen again this season.

HIE HAS A FELLOW named Maurice Lucas playing for him now, and the 6-8 center may just be the best yet to come out of Marquette. "I don't know what Maurice has planned," said McGuire, "but I sure hope he doesn't leave too. Each season when we're about ready to make our move, just when we're getting set to rocket, somebody leaves and goes to the ABA as a hardship case."

"There's no solution to this problem in the immediate future, though," he continued, still strolling through the drizzle. "The first thing that has to come is a common draft between the ABA and NBA. Then we need a merger, but a merger won't come about until they give a little more freedom to the athlete in breaking away from the so-called slave type of contract."

"It's tough on the owner and tough on the athlete, but when the merger comes it will end the jumping of the student-athletes before they get their degrees."

Cagers end season

Rouge breaks jinx

A brilliant 36-point performance Friday by Romulus all-stater John Long couldn't stop River Rouge from breaking a four-game hex held over them by the Eagles Friday night.

Down by as much as 13 points, Long rallied Romulus to within a point of catching the Panthers before succumbing 89-87 to the Class B state power.

Handicapped by personal fouls which forced him to the sidelines in the second period, Long came back and almost pulled it out for the Eagles who went into the final period trailing 72-63.

It was the first time since the initial game of 1972 that Coach Lofton Greene's Panthers have beaten Romulus.

"It was a real heart-breaking defeat," said Romulus Coach Jesse Meriweather, "but, as I have said before, it's no shame to lose to good teams, and Rouge definitely falls into that category."

ROMULUS worked its way to an early 20-18 lead as Romulus guard Rickey Hubbert teamed with James Hall to supply the early fireworks. Hubbert, hitting on long jumper, drilled in eight points, while Hall had four and Long six in the first period.

However, Mel Woodyard "killed" the Eagles in the second period. Driving through the porous Romulus defense when his long shots were off, Woodyard pumped in 13 points and Lionel Reeves supported him with eight as the Panthers took command of a 47-44 halftime score.

"We let them get some good shots," related Meriweather, "and you can't let a team like that get away with the percentage shots."

However, Romulus was left without the foul-stricken Long who collected six more points before departing for the bench. Hall and Hubbert took up the scoring slack, each hitting for eight points.

A see-sawing affair after the half, Rouge held off Romulus' bid to take the lead away despite a balanced Eagle attack which featured Long's 10 points, seven by Hall.

THE ROMULUS' effort was offset by Darryl Miller's seven points and six points each by Brian Steele and Reeves. With 2:12 left in the third period, the Panthers had built up a 13 point wedge, 70-57, and Long frantically worked to break it.

In the waning minutes, the All-State forward connected on two baskets, Hall got one to close the gap to nine points, 72-63, as the third quarter ended.

Seven points - a couple of three-point plays - by Long carried the Eagles to within one basket of catching the visitors (74-72), however, Miller retaliated with two consecutive field goals to break the spell.

Long refused to give up. He ripped off the next six points while Steele got two for Rouge with 3:57 remaining in the game, the Eagles closed within one point, 80-79.

Then, Woodyard took over for the Panthers. The sharp-shooting cager drilled in a couple of buckets to give the Panthers some breathing room and they were able to hang on until Long fouled out of the game.

Long's 36 points stood up as the game's high while Hall contributed 23 and Hubbert had 20 points.

Romulus ends the regular season on the road at Highland Park before returning home Monday to defend its district title.

SPARKLING PERFORMANCE—Sailing around and sometimes over Rouge players, Romulus' John Long (50) dumped in 36 points in a futile effort to stop the Panthers who broke a four-game losing spell by winning a thrilling 89-87 victory Friday night. Long led a Romulus comeback that erased a 13-point deficit.

Belleville swimmers dunked by Dearborn

Belleville swimmers wrap up the dual phase of the Suburban 8 Conference swimming season tomorrow night at Redford Union, then will head for Plymouth Salem to compete in the conference meet.

The meet will be staged from March 6 through 8.

Coach Sam Vicchy's Tigers got a taste of what to expect next week as Dearborn, the defending champ, swept all 11 events en route to a 67-16 victory over the local swimmers last Thursday.

Placing 1-2 in most of the events, Coach Jack Johnson's Pioneers remained undefeated in dual meet competition as Belleville received second places from diver Aleta Rice and in the 100-yard breaststroke where Pike Walker trailed Ken Lenhart to the finish.

Belleville turns back Allen Park

If only Tom Niemi's Tigers could play winning ball against the Suburban 8 Conference's "second division" clubs, the Belleville cage coach would be in pretty good shape.

Belleville knocked off Allen Park, the defending league champ 62-57, posting its second victory over the Jaguars this year. That victory was something a Belleville cage team hadn't accomplished over a Parker team in nearly a decade.

Belleville also is the only team to beat Plymouth Salem in the league this year.

"WE HAD a good steady game against them," said Niemi whose team will host Redford Union for the league finale on Friday. "The kids are getting a little confidence in themselves and if we can win the next two and get a good draw in the districts we will be alright."

Belleville is pitted in the Ypsilanti District Tournament with teams from Westland John Glenn, Wayne Memorial, Ann Arbor Huron and Pioneers as well as the host.

Seven players scored for Belleville in the first period with Kaseen Cohen's six points staking the Tigers to a 22-11 lead.

Allen Park made a serious attempt at a comeback as Phil Beyer went on a rampage and pumped in 11 points to give the Jaguars a 21-14 scoring edge.

BELLEVILLE widened a 36-32 halftime edge by five points in the third period and then hung on as Allen Park rallied to within five of tying the score.

Three Belleville players hit in double figures with Mel Abraham's 15 leading the way. Teammate Harless Hairston and Robin Hook chipped in with 10 and 12 points, respectively.

Niemi pointed to one statistic, "which told the

Ex-Belleville diver sets team record at EMU

YPSILANTI — Barry Susterka has really been taking a "dive" for Eastern Michigan University.

The Belleville sophomore, a member of the Huron swimming team, has established himself as the favorite to capture both the one-and three-meter diving events in the Mid-American Conference championships.

In a dual meet last weekend with Northern Illinois, Susterka broke former EMU great Rich deManincor's varsity record on the three-meter board. In six dives he hit a total of 334.75 points to eclipse deManincor's mark of 323.60.

BARRY SUSTERKA

SUSTERKA'S performance qualified him for the NCAA

University Division nationals which had a standard of 300. He had already qualified on the one-meter board with a 282.05, surpassing the minimum performance standard of 280.

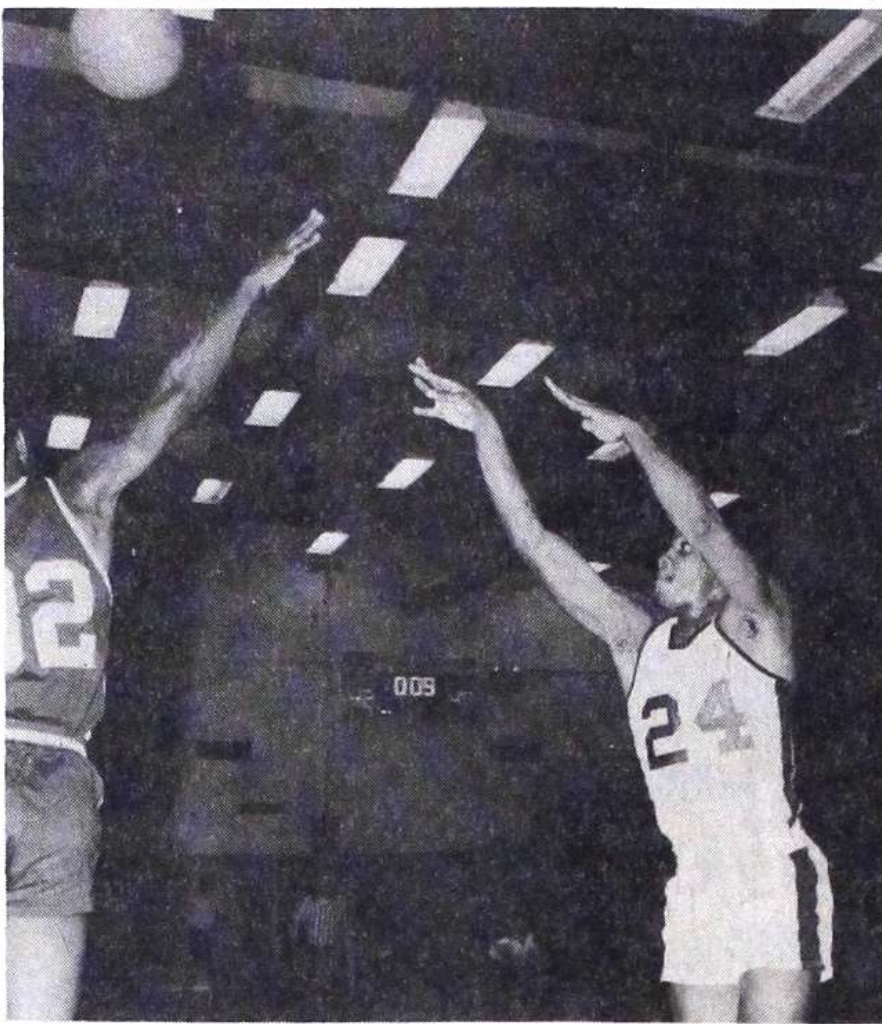

"He was really hitting them," said coach Mike Jones in reference to Susterka's varsity record-setting performance last Saturday. "Everything has to go right for you to pile up that kind of score. And it did for Barry."

"He has really been coming along," the EMU coach said. "There's no doubt that he's the best diver in the Conference. And he's just a sophomore."

Watts calls the 'strikes'

When Romulus' Robert J. Watts steps behind the plate to ump a game, he will have the knowledge of some of the best training the sport has to offer.

Watts is a student attending the specialized umpire training course in St. Petersburg, Florida. The course covers every phase of umpiring from the Major League level to the Little League levels.

'HOT HANDS'—Romulus' Rick Hubbert (24) flips this jump shot over the outstretched arm of River Rouge's Lionel Reeves (32) in Friday's confrontation that ended in a 89-87 victory for the visiting Rouge quintet. Hubbert's sharpshooting in the first half provided the Eagles with 16 points. He finished with 20 for the evening.—Enterprise Roman photo.

Hapless Huron bumped again

For New Boston Huron's sake, it's a good thing that the Huron League basketball season ends Friday.

The cage Chiefs have struggled all season to stay out of the league's cellar, and with one game left they can hear the footsteps of Monroe Jefferson. Jefferson is in last place with a 1-12 record, just one game worse than Huron, at 2-11.

And, unless fifth-place Gibraltar Carlson can defeat Jefferson Friday, the Chiefs will likely fall into a last-place tie. Huron has the dubious honor of hosting league-leading Tecumseh in the finale.

ACTUALLY, Tecumseh is deadlocked in first place with Carlton Airport and Monroe Catholic Central—all with 10-3 records.

Huron, 5-13 overall, visited Chelsea Tuesday night in a non-league affair.

Huron's latest league step backward came last Friday, when Carlson captured a 69-65 decision in spite of itself. The hosts got into early foul trouble and didn't enjoy a particularly hot-shooting night from the free throw line, but Huron couldn't take advantage of those woes.

"We didn't make the big shot when we had to," moaned Chief coach Andy Herman. "We got them in foul trouble but just couldn't capitalize on it."

Huron started out good, claiming a 13-11 first quarter lead, but Carlson edged the Chiefs in the second stanza to cut the lead to 35-34 at the half. The Chiefs iced up in the third quarter and ran into some foul trouble of their own in getting outscored 18-12 to lose the lead.

AND BY THE time they regained their poise in the fourth quarter for an 18-17 period edge, it was too late to repair the third quarter damage. In that third quarter Huron canned only five of 18 shots, and while Carlson wasn't much better at 8 of 18, those three buckets proved the difference.

League scoring leader Joe Richert eclipsed his league average of 23 points with a 24-point night for Huron. Richert has a 21-point average for all games. Jim Pidgeon had 13 and Dave Blount 11 for the Chiefs.

Bob Blackburn, the league's second-best scorer, checked out with 20 for Carlson, while Joe Drennan and Bob Jackson popped in 15 and 11, respectively.

Huron shot 38 percent (24 of 62) and Carlson was 42 percent (31 of 73). The hosts sank only seven of 25 free throws compared to Huron's 17 of 29.

HURON CAN play the spoiler Friday against Tecumseh, which is also interested in the outcome of the Airport-Monroe CC battle.

Huron bowed to Monroe CC the previous Tuesday, 62-60.

District pairings

Romulus will begin the defense of its Class A district basketball title on Monday, drawing for its first challenger, Taylor Center.

Taylor Center is sporting a 7-6 record in the newly-aligned Great Lakes 8 conference.

A victory over the Rams would advance Coach Jesse Meriweather's Eagles into the semi-finals where they would meet Cherry Hill on Wed., March 6.

The championship will be decided on Friday, March 8. All games are scheduled for 7 p.m.

Here is the pairings for the Romulus District:

Monday, March 4	Taylor Center (A) vs. Romulus (B)
Tuesday, March 5	Taylor Truman (C) vs. Taylor Kennedy (D)
Wednesday, March 6	Cherry Hill vs. winner of A-B
Friday, March 8	championship Game.

Preps face league tests

With the Western Wayne Invitational behind them, area prep swimmers begin turning their thoughts to league championships and qualifying for the state meet.

The WW Invitational, held Saturday at Westland John Glen, saw five records wiped off the boards. The meet also helped area swimmers better their times for the gruelling tests ahead.

Garden City East swimmers, who successfully defended the WW title, continue to hold down the "lion's share" of best area times as Coach Ron Clifton's Panthers are tops in six out of a possible 11 events.

Here is this week's listing as compiled by Cherry Hill Coach Jerry Pawloski. Coaches who wish to get results recorded on the listing may contact Pawloski either at the high school, (PA 2-5900) or at home, (9-414-399).

Second-guessing

Marquette is reportedly highly interested in Livonia Franklin's Kevin Kaseta, but McGuire says he doesn't bother with all that recruiting "nonsense" this early, and doesn't really know who his scouts are looking at.

"RECRUITING IS VERY distasteful," he expounded, wiping off his damp curly black hair as he came in out of the elements, "but it's like part of any job. No matter what you do in life there are distasteful parts of your job."

"But they have to be done. I don't think any sensible human being enjoys recruiting. What has to be done is that a student-athlete should be allowed to visit only three schools, within a 50 mile radius of his home."

"No university should be allowed to have more than 11 kids visit. You can destroy a boy's moral fiber by having him visit eight, nine schools and give him the red-carpet treatment and all that. A student-athlete should have to make a commitment by May 15. That would stop all this fudging and grouping up on the student-athlete."

And, with all of that off his mind, Al McGuire stripped off his ragged trench coat, put a whistle in his mouth, and went out on the court with his team to put his myriad of philosophies to work.

story." "We outrebounced them 40-27," he said, "and that's a very good reason why we were able to win."

Belleville's Ernie Thornbury did an excellent job on the boards, hauling down 14, while Abraham also snared nine.

The Tigers could do better though at the free throw line where they utilized only eight of 21 offerings. Allen Park made 19 of 28 foul shots. Belleville also hit on 27 of 51 from the field for 53 percent while Allen Park sank 19 of its 54 field goals for 36 percent. The victory left Belleville with a 3-9 league record.

Warrick pins 'em

Brad Warrick, senior at the University of Wyoming, led the Cowboy wrestling team last weekend with a pair of pins over his Colorado State University and Air Force Academy opponents.

Wyoming Wrestling coach Joe Dowler said that with the two wins Warrick has finally put together the right combination to be a top contender of the WAC 134 lbs championships.

Warrick's first pin came with 4:12 remaining in the match against CSU's Steve Persichetti.

Warrick is a 1969 graduate of Belleville High, where he also participated in wrestling.

This weekend the Cowboys play host to the defending NAIA champs Adam State of Colorado and Nebraska.

Paneling adds warmth to bathroom

If mention of a wood bathroom evokes images limited to a small structure with cutout crescent moons, it's time for an updating on indoor conveniences. Bathrooms have come a long way from their rustic days, evolving through tile and porcelain to gleaming white molded plastics. The idea seemingly was to make the room as antiseptic looking as possible. A growing number of bathroom planners are moving away from the clinical look, using a pleasing combination of materials. Tubs and other fixtures are available in subtle or bright colors, and some sinks are patterned in flowers or fleure-de-lis. ONE architect used solid wood paneling to bring a warm, natural mood to the master bath in his home. Horizontal boards of 1-by 6 western cedar on walls and ceiling lend interesting mixed grain patterns and tones. One wall of the bathroom is shared by a shower stall and a small sauna room. The door to the sauna is faced with the same cedar boards, but in a diagonal pattern for pleasing contrast. The cedar paneling continues inside the sauna, on the walls and ceiling. Because of its low conductivity, the door handles, benches and floor are of wood, adding to the comfort in the hot air bath. The end wall adjacent to the sauna has cabinets above and below the lavatory counter, all framed in 2 by 2 inch fir. Facing of 1 by 4 inch fir surrounds louvered wood doors enclosing the lower cabinet. A 1 by 8-inch cedar soffit softens indirect lighting above the counter. WESTERN WOOD paneling is available with smooth and saw-textured surfaces, and in this bathroom the paneling was applied with the smooth side out. Blind mauling in the tongue and groove paneling left the surface unmarked. To retain the natural beauty of the wood, the paneling can be left unfinished, waxed or given a coat of sealer, especially in heavy wear or splash areas.

New gusto colors add sparkle to the old bathroom

When it comes to decorating the bathroom of a home, not everyone can afford an interior decorator. Likewise, when it comes to making minor repairs in the bath, not everyone can afford to call in a repairman. The solution to both of these situations is simple. Do it yourself. TODAY, homemakers are using the same decorating gusto in the bath that they have used in every other room in the house. Bathroom walls are being adorned with exquisite vinyl prints or plaids, mirrors, shelves, pictures and various accessories. For example, water-resistant wall coverings made of self-adhesive vinyls add an elegant touch and can easily be applied to walls and ceilings. Also, ceramic and mosaic wall tiles are available on pre-mounted sheets to reduce costs and work. Bathroom floors are getting plush treatment with luxurious wall-to-wall carpeting, colorful mosaic and ceramic tile, and in some cases, do-it-yourselfers are painting designs on floors, then coating the floors with varnish. CARPETING is available in vivid colors and patterns and can be cut to fit a bathroom wall-to-wall. Or self-sticking carpet tiles can be placed on the floor in a jiffy. An array of pastel tubs, shower stalls, toilets and sinks are being installed in bathrooms—beige, blue, green, yellow and pink—in addition to the standard white. There's even a colored bathtub caulk out on the market that helps to create a totally color coordinated look. The silicone rubber caulk, manufactured by Dow Corning, comes in six decorator colors and complements pastel bathroom fixtures where white caulk once stood out and detracted from the color scheme.

There's a little bit of ecology in every electric bill you pay.

Every time you pay your electric bill, you help pay for the millions of dollars we spend each year at our power plants to help clean up the air and water. We're all for a clean environment. And we'll all have to help pay the cost. This is one more reason the cost of electricity is going up. You can't take electricity for granted anymore, but we'll continue to do our best to provide reliable electric service now and in the future.

NEW DETROIT DIESEL ALLISON FACILITY—This artist's rendering depicts the new diesel engine parts manufacturing plant planned by Detroit Diesel Allison. The 500,000-square-foot plant in Romulus, will go into operation within 2½ years. It is expected to give the General Motors division about a 25 per cent increase over current diesel engine volume and to provide about 1,300 new jobs. The view here is from Ecorse Road, looking northeast toward Van Buren Road. In the foreground are low-rise general office areas, flanked by the slightly taller manufacturing facility and, behind it, a taller 160,000-square-foot warehouse. Low level structure in center background represents existing parts distribution center.

Flags flutter in city

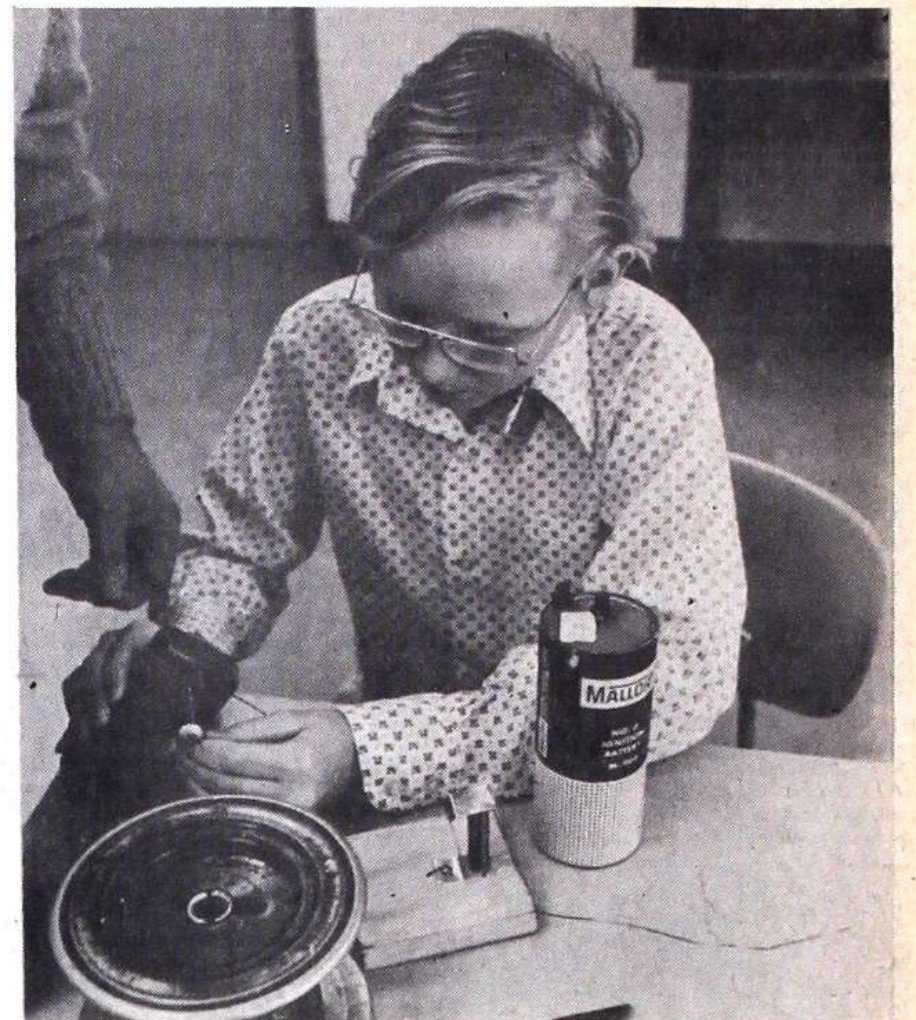

A "Buy and Fly the American Flag" campaign has been initiated in the Belleville area by the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

John Barber, president of the local chamber, said the chamber directors are sponsoring the campaign and sale of American flag kits in an effort to get more business establishments in the Belleville community to participate in displaying the American flag.

Although the chamber's American flag drive is aimed at the businesses, residents also are urged to participate, Barber said.

The American flag kits contain a three-by-five-foot American flag and a six-foot staff. They can be purchased at the local branch of the Secretary of State office, located at High Street and West Columbia Avenue or the chamber office at 152 Main St., Room 11.

The price of the flag kit is $3.95 compared to the present market cost of $8.95, Barber said.

Try once-a-week marketing

Shopping tips help stretch shrinking money

Western Wayne County residents should try to do grocery shopping once a week, rather than making a number of trips to the market. Once-a-week shopping will save local residents money by conserving the use of gasoline and halting the purchase of unnecessary items, experts say.

The Associated Food Dealers of Michigan (AFD) has issued a list of tips on how to help residents stretch their food dollars.

The association's executive director, Edward Deeb, said that the tips are being offered to show homemakers food dealers "do care about them and want to assist those on tight food budgets."

The suggestions are part of "Grocers Week" in Michigan, a statewide promotion conducted by food distributors last week.

The following food shopping tips are passed on to homemakers:

- Use a prepared shopping list for efficiency;
- Make use of a meal plan for at least one week's menus and shop around it;

Buy food items in advance to take advantage of specials and lower prices, often available on volume purchases;

- Take advantage of advertised items by watching advertisements or circulars;
- Watch for product displays in the stores - big stocks usually indicate a special price;

- Take advantage of the seasons.

- Stick to the "basics" approach in cooking, avoiding instant or convenience foods when possible, to save money.

- When shopping for meats, take advantage of less expensive cuts, which when prepared properly tastes just as good;

- Avoid impulse purchases;
- Finally, compare prices by weights and packages, and select items which provide better values.

Student competition is stiff in 3 schools' spelling bees

The buzz has died down at the Romulus Gordonier, and Mt. Pleasant Elementary Schools following the conclusion of this year's spelling bee among fifth and sixth grade students.

Champion at the Romulus School was fifth grader Diane Kautz, who captured the honor of attending the district bee by spelling the word "affection."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kautz of 35720 Mary St.

RUNNER-UP in the competition was Shelley Chandler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Chandler of 9261 Ozga Rd.

The pronouncer for the bee was Mrs. Joy Lamberson with Mrs. Lenore Gaddy and Mrs. Nettie Whitner as judges. All are of Romulus.

The best speller among the 150 contestants at the Mt. Pleasant School was Shelly Neely, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Neely of 15539 Meadow.

Shelly clinched the victory by correctly spelling the word "favorite." Her runner-up, Kimberly Rodd, was eliminated when she stumbled in the spelling of "hospital."

KIMBERLY is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rodd of 13572 Ashton Dr.

Fifth grader Kathy Wright captured top spot in the spelling bee at Gordonier School with her correct spelling of the word "needed."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wright of 8812 Kenwood.

Teresa Fyfe, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fyfe of 31072 Ecorse, was runner-up in the competition. She is a fifth grade student at the school.

What's a checking account without a service charge?

It's a pretty good checking account. And that's what we've got. We call it our 200/500 Checking Plan. Just maintain a $200 minimum monthly balance in your account, and there won't be a service charge. And, even if your balance goes below $200, there still won't be a service charge as long as your account averages $500 during your monthly statement period. There isn't a charge for your itemized monthly statement, either. Our 200/500 Checking Plan. Because service charges are something you can probably do without.

Supreme Court meets to decide busing case

When the United States Supreme Court meets today, the nation's highest judicial panel will hear the long-awaited Detroit cross-district busing controversy.

The decision, when it comes, will be an historic one. Newsmen close to the High Court scene foresee a decision by May.

Should the panel rule in favor of the cross-district metro plan proposed by Detroit Federal Judge Stephen Roth—children from practically every suburban district in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties would be bused.

JUDGE ROTH'S metro busing plan includes the Western Wayne County school districts of Wayne-Westland, Garden City, Inkster, Westwood, Cherry Hill, Van Buren Township, Livonia, and Romulus.

At issue is a controversial finding by a federal judge that public schools in Detroit have been segregated over the years by racially discriminatory legal acts of the school board and the state.

To remedy the situation, Judge Roth ruled in 1971 a busing plan must be adopted to integrate schools in Detroit and its predominantly white suburbs.

The area, encompassing more than 300 square miles, has a total enrollment of some 780,000 students in 53 school districts in three counties.

THE THREAT of cross-district busing has stirred up massive resistance in the suburbs, with parents groups vowing to keep their children out of public schools rather than allow them to be bused.

Judge Roth ruled that any integration plan for Detroit must involve the entire metropolitan area because complete desegregation of the city's system alone would create large black majorities in all schools.

A plan involving Detroit only, he said, would simply change a school system which is now perceived as black and white to one that would be perceived as black, "thereby increasing the flight of whites" from the city.

"A large metropolitan area such as we have in our case cannot be made the subject of instant integration," Roth declared at a hearing.

Trailers have hazards

By GARY M. OWEN
State Representative
22nd District

Mobile home parks offer far too great a potential for health hazards, unsafe construction and disregard for park residents' rights. These problems became painfully evident in the recent flash-fire death of eight persons caught in a Genesee County mobile home fire. The testimony of many park residents victimized by questionable practices and hidden fees further dramatizes the need for official attention.

Interest in corrective state legislation now is at a high level with action focused on several bills before the House Urban Affairs Committee. I am personally helping to review those items and to draft other legislation as vice-chairman of the Special Study Committee on Mobile Homes, chaired by House Majority Leader Bobby Crim.

Our bill will address such concerns as the lack of staff and expertise within health units to adequately enforce health regulations; the lack of any fire safety construction standards for Michigan-produced mobile homes until at least July, 1974; and the need to protect tenant rights from such practices as requirements to buy the mobile home from the park owners' own dealership.

IT ALSO will cover lack of a warranty, exorbitant finance charges on mobile home loans, overly high insurance rates and extra fees charged anyone moving into a leaving a park or for extra guests.

Michigan now boasts 250,000 mobile homes and annually approves at least 100 new mobile home parks or park additions, representing about 20,000 new home sites. This rapid expansion places a great strain on agencies approving park construction permits and licensing mobile home parks.

The increase in absentee park owners, some of whom simply sue the parks as tax write-offs, has compounded the problems of protecting the health, safety and rights of tenants.

The proposed Mobile Home Commission Act (House Bill 5666), sponsored by Rep. Bobby Crim, myself and others, represents the focal point of attempts to replace the outdated 1959 statute, now providing for state mobile home regulation.

THE BILL proposes a Mobile Home Commission within the Department of Commerce with the responsibility to license qualifying mobile home parks and revoke licenses of violators; to prepare a Mobile Home Code setting health, safety and tenants rights standards; and to oversee the administration and enforcement of the code by local governments.

The code would specify acceptable mobile home construction standards and warranties and license and regulate the layout and operation of mobile home parks. It would protect further purchasers of mobile homes from illegal sales and service practices, including the operations of those installing and repairing mobile homes.

The centralization of all aspects of the mobile home industry is long overdue. House Bill 5666 should provide for a more efficient method of delivery services to the many residents and communities who now find themselves frustrated by government inefficiency.

County needs exec to handle its affairs

One of the nation's first elected county chief executives said Wayne County citizens "couldn't go wrong" by electing a full-time executive to handle county affairs.

Ralph G. Caso, two-term county executive from Nassau County, New York, said "it can only benefit Wayne County, if there is an elected executive responsible to the people."

CASO WAS speaking on the county executive concept at the invitation of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners Thursday at the Hilton Inn in Romulus.

He said the recent move by the Michigan Legislature to allow counties to set up an executive branch would make county government "more effective, more efficient and more economical" than it had been in the past.

Caso, one of 13 elected county executives in New York, said the "trend in the nation seems to be going toward more dynamic, responsible, responsive county government" through the election of county officials.

Until the Michigan Legislature adopted a bill proposed by State Sen. Carl D. Pursell (R-14th District), a former Wayne County Commissioner, counties throughout the state were run by boards of commissioners.

IN WAYNE County, 26 men elected by district throughout the county, attempt to handle all county affairs on a part-time basis.

While Caso admits there is a need for a form of county government to act as representatives for various areas of the county, he also said there is a need for a central head to handle its day-to-day business.

A proposal to change Wayne County's charter to provide either for a county manager, a position similar to city manager, or a county executive, not unlike the position of full-time mayor, may be placed before the voters.

She was elected by the delegates to the 21st annual convention of the association. Mrs. Scott has been a member of the association's board of directors for 11 years.

Section 4. Penalties and Liabilities. 4.1 Criminal. Every parent who neglects or fails to exercise the proper control over his minor children through the commission of one or more of the above listed prohibited acts shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $1,000.00, and the costs of his prosecution, or by imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Section 6. Severability Clause. 6.1 Should any provision of this ordinance be held invalid, such determination shall not affect the validity of any other provision of this ordinance.

Section 7. Effective Date. 7.1 This Ordinance shall be effective 30 days upon adoption and subsequent publication in a newspaper of general circulation.

REALTY FACTS, A Noted economist points out that after factoring out inflation, today's interest rates are hovering between 4.5 percent and 4.75 percent, which was the interest rate prevailing right after WW II. Therefore, long term interest rates are going to continue to rise. Just another reason why it is wise to buy a home now.
